

POETRY.

THE FIELD OF CORN.

Let others praise the myrtle flowers
From southern summers sprung,
The glory of Italian bowers
By hard and beauty sung;
While Rosalie's endearing grace
Is in my memory borne,
I'll not forget our trysting place
Was in the field of corn.

The branching vines beneath our feet
No purple clusters bore,
But fruit more sunny-hued and sweet—
The pumpkin's yellow store,
The plaintive quail that harbored near
Prolonged his note forlorn,
And every sigh and sound was dear
Among the Indian corn.

The green and trailing leaves at last
Were faded, crisp and sere,
And over them the autumn blast
Bewailed their ruin drear,
By reapers from the tasselled stalk
The golden ear was torn,
And desolate became our walk
Within the field of corn.

Cutting off Heads.—A letter from Constantinople, says: "One fact I wish to mention, The Mahometans, many, very many of them, are beginning to doubt the truth of the Koran, and to enquire about Christianity. As the hand of the Sultan is laid less heavily on the people, so in proportion are they improving intellectually and morally. The system of cutting off heads is nearly abolished, and the Sultan permits a grandson to live—a thing almost unknown."

WHAT IS DEMOCRACY.

The federal papers appear to be sadly puzzled to find it out. We should think from the untiring and vindictive warfare against the rights of the people, they might have some slight knowledge of the principles of their opponents—principles that have so often overthrown their machinations, and which have thus far triumphantly sustained our country amid the storms of faction and treachery. If the opposition really wish to know what Democracy is, let them consult the administration of ANDREW JACKSON, and they will find its precepts carried into practice at every step. They will find it to be in deadly hostilities to every species of monopoly; a firm and unflinching opposition to the pretensions of the few, and an unwavering advocate for the rights of the many. Democracy is not the enemy of the rich, but it is the friend of the poor. It knows no difference between man and man; all are alike the objects of its care, and all share the rich blessings it so bountifully diffuses. There is no toleration of exclusives here—no hereditary privileges—no "stars, garters, and ribbons," but the path to honor and distinction is open and untrammelled. The poor and needy man, if he is honest and has ability, can successfully compete with the possessor of unbounded treasures. What is Democracy? It is the spirit that nerved our fathers to throw off the British yoke, and armed the patriot soldiers of the Revolution to brave fire and sword for the achievement of American Independence. It is that which formed our Constitution, established our Government, and protected our country during a second war, from foreign invasions and domestic treason—and has subsequently elevated it to a pinnacle of power and greatness that makes it the wonder and admiration of the world.

Norwegian mode of living.—Every farm in some parts of Norway has its little mills. In these they grind their oats, husks and all, previously subjecting them to a strong drying heat in a kiln. The stones are of hard gneiss; they turn swiftly, and reduce the grain to a flour as fine as that of wheat. Very good bread is baked of this flour in large flat cakes, covering the bottom of a griddle or frying pan. They are as thin as a sheet of paper. It is in these mills that, in times of scarcity, the inner rind of the fir tree is ground and reduced to flour, after being kiln dried.

By the ship Horatio, Capt. Howland, which arrived at New York on Sunday, from Canton, whence she sailed on the 26th of June, we regret to learn the decease of Lt. Archibald S. Campbell, commander of the U. S. s. Enterprise, who died at Macao on the 3d of June—and also of the demise of Mr. Roberts, U. S. Commercial Agent, who died on the 11th June.

It was a beautiful sentiment of Gen. Jackson, that "the blessings of government like the dew of Heaven, should be dispensed alike on the rich and the poor." And it has been practically illustrated though the whole course of the administration of this venerable patriot and fortunate Chief Magistrate. Equal laws and an impartial administration of them, are among the distinguishing traits of his administration; and the protection of the poor from the encroachments of the rich—from the power of an overshadowing bank aristocracy and the grasp of the speculator—its highest attribute. Such will be the character of him whom New York delights to offer as a candidate worthy of the suffrages of the democracy of the Union.—Albany Argus.

Death of an excellent Man.

We republish with sincere sympathy, the following tribute to the memory of one of the worthiest gentlemen it was ever our good fortune to know. He has filled a large space in the eyes of his country, and she will deeply lament his death:

Rich. Enquirer.

From Wednesday's Compiler.
Died, at his residence in Goodland, on the 9th inst., after a tedious and most painful illness, JAMES FLEASANT, Esq., formerly Governor of Virginia, and Senator in the Congress of the United States. No man enjoyed more fully the public esteem and affection than Gov. Fleasants, and no man better deserved universal respect and good will.

DESPATCH.—We were yesterday, says the N. York Gazette, an eye-witness to a specimen of despatch, which, had it not fallen under our own inspection, we should have been sceptical in believing. It was the operation, at the Fair of the American Institute, of reducing wheat, in straw, to baked bread in ten minutes. The process was as follows:—Twelve bundles of straw were placed in a machine, in the garden, which came out threshed in a minute and a half; the winnowing was effected in a minute; the grinding and bolting occupied a minute and a half; the dough was kneaded and the cakes formed in two minutes. The whole contents of the twelve bundles were placed in a kitchen range and came out thoroughly baked in four minutes; making, in the whole, ten minutes. The cakes were distributed round, and they only wanted the aid of a cooler, and a few pounds of Goshen Butter, to have been swallowed in another minute, without the aid of mastication.

Anecdote.—An Irishman lately applied to the captain of a canal boat at Shenectady, for a passage to Buffalo, and wished to work his passage. The captain agreed to employ him, and accordingly set him to lead the horse on the tow path. After travelling thus as far as Amsterdam, the son of Erin gave it up—declaring that he would sooner go a foot than work his passage in America.

Ol' don't.—The New York Courier and Enquirer threatens to abandon the south on the question of slavery, provided Van Buren receives an electoral vote south of the Potomac. What desperate fellows these whigs are, & how blusteringly they talk to the people of the Union about the exercise of the elective franchise! The efforts of such papers as the Courier and Enquirer, and Star, to create the impression at the south that Van Buren is an abolitionist, harmonize most beautifully with the attempts of papers of the north that Van Buren is a southern man in all his feelings. Such specimens of consistency are worthy only of the whig party.—Rochester Daily Advertiser.

Steamboat Accident.—We are informed by a passenger, that the Steam Boat Kentucky on her passage from Baltimore to Norfolk last Friday, broke the main shaft of her larboard Engine.—The wind being at the time strong from the S. W. and the wheel unable to revolve, it was deemed expedient to return to Baltimore, as Capt. Sutton feared to encounter heavy weather in such a crippled state. This was very fortunate, as after midnight the wind increased to a perfect gale, accompanied by hail, thunder and lightning.

Mr. Freymon the agent promptly despatched another boat with the passengers, and did every thing in his power to render their situation comfortable while in Baltimore.

A gentleman with a glass eye was about to exercise the right of suffrage, this morning, when he was accosted by a political opponent with, "I say, Mister, what are you doing here? you can't vote, you're not natural eyes!" The joke was taken in good part, and created general merriment.—Balt. Gaz.

The French see some strange sights at Algiers. A short time since, one of the cavalry was attacked in open day by an enormous lion, which however was afterwards killed. The lions seem as hostile to the Galic intruders, as their masters, the Cedouins.

A Warrior.—There is a clerk in the French War Department, who, in various battles, has received no less than 75 wounds, and has been twice trepanned for fractures of the skull. His name, oddly enough, is Laguerre—in English War.

A Curious Case.—A German journal records the singular pathological phenomenon of the suspension of the beating of the heart for the space of several weeks. The pulsations could not be distinguished even by the stethoscope. No explanation is given of this remarkable case.

Desperate remedy for a desperate disease.—A Paris paper relates of a widow lady who had retired a few months since, to a convent, and who was afflicted with such extreme loquacity as to be out of the reach of all reasonable remedy or her own decision, that she inflicted a large wound in her throat, with the hope of curing the loquacious malady, by wounding the point where the voice originated, and thus rendering herself dumb forever. She accomplished her cure much more effectually than she had intended or desired, for she died of the wound in a few days.

As an instance of the superior sailing and management of American vessels, it may be interesting to mention, that the barque Garland, of Boston, sailed from Charleston on the 6th of August, proceeded to Copenhagen, discharged her cargo, went down to Gottenburg, took in a cargo, and arrived at this port on Tuesday evening, in company with the Swedish brig Iris, which left Stockholm only two days, and Elsinore only three days after the Garland left Charleston.—N. Y. Express.

GOODS! GOODS!! GOODS!!!

Selling off, and must be got through with by a specified time.
WHILE in the City of New-York, I made certain engagements, which compel me to close my business in this place. With this in view, I return to the citizens of Raleigh, and to my friends in the country, my grateful thanks for their past liberal patronage, and invite them to call and get GREAT BARGAINS. It is of little effect to use the hackneyed phrase "at cost," for goods, badly bought, are even dear at that, and some no doubt, will have to be sold for less than cost—for I must get rid of them speedily.
The Members of the Assembly wishing to purchase any article for themselves or for their families, will do well to call and get cheap goods.
All persons having any claims against the subscriber, will bring them forward by the first of March, 1837; and any person indebted to him by note or open account, will call and pay the same by that time.

Lavelle Female Seminary.
WE the undersigned, Trustees of the Lavelle Seminary have attended the examination of the 8th and 9th inst. and take occasion to express our high gratification of its results. From the manner in which the pupils acquitted themselves in the various recitations of Reading, Geography, History, Arithmetic, Algebra, Euclid, Geography of the Heavens, Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, and other useful and ornamental Sciences. And from their superior exhibition of Penmanship, Compositions, Paintings, and Music we think the school has amply sustained itself as one of the best female seminaries in our country, and we take pleasure in saying that its teachers, (who we understand are to continue its charge,) have evinced talents and abilities in their capacities of the first order.

In short, we hesitate not to cordially recommend the school as highly worthy of patronage.

REMEDY FOR ASIATIC CHOLERA.

CHOLERA MORBUS, DIARRHOEA, &c. &c.
Prepared only, and sold by the sole Proprietor, ROBERT S. BERNARD, Drug-gist, Norfolk, Va.

Price $1.—Patent right secured.

In consequence of the very great and increasing demand for this invaluable preparation, induced by the many cases which have been effected by the use of it in cases of Asiatic Cholera, common Cholera Morbus in children, and disorders of the Bowels generally, the proprietor has prepared, and will continue to keep on hand, a large supply.

This Remedy has been used by many eminent Physicians, some of whom have charge of the largest Hospitals in the United States, where the Cholera has prevailed to a great extent, and been fatal to temperate, aged, and infirm persons. Their confidence in this Medicine is such that they say they are not afraid of the most inveterate cases of Asiatic Cholera, when taken in time.

DIRECTIONS.

Take a table-spoonful of the mixture, with the same quantity of water, every hour or half hour, as occasion may require, until vomiting, purging, and pains have ceased. In common ordinary cases of Diarrhoea, a table-spoonful of the mixture may be taken three or four times a day and repeated at night, in cases of Cholera, the medicine has been administered to children afflicted with diarrhoea, or Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and Summer Complaints, with complete success. In no case has it failed to cure the most inveterate attack. The best mode of administering it to young children, is to take a tea-spoonful of the mixture and mix it with the same quantity of water, giving it as above directed—a little sugar may be added, to make it more palatable. Keep the bottle well corked.

Undeigned testimony of the efficacy of the above Medicine may be seen at the Standard Office—where it is kept for sale.

DR. PRATT'S Artificial Nipple Shield.
FOR the prevention and cure of Sore Nipples. The following highly respectable certificates are deemed a sufficient recommendation for those who are afflicted in this manner, to try them.

From Doctor Wm. P. Dewees, late Professor of Obstetrics, in the Medical University of Philadelphia:
Doc. ELIJAH PRATT:

Dear Sir: As I feel it a matter of much public importance, to possess a means of lessening the terrible sufferings from sore Nipples, I have much pleasure in being able to say, that the "Shield" you offer for the preventing and the cure of this malady, is better adapted to the purpose than any I have heretofore seen. In the two or three instances I have known them to be used, much satisfaction has been expressed, and I have no hesitation to believe it will generally succeed: I am so well persuaded of this, at this moment, that I cannot forbear to express a wish that our city, through the various Apothecaries, may be supplied with them.
I am yours, &c.

Farmer's View

FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber is anxious to move to the West, and offers for sale his Tract of Land whereon he now resides, lying on Deep River, in Chatham County, twelve miles above Haywood, one and a half below Evans' Bridge, four and a half below the Gulf, and twelve south of Pittsborough; containing Twelve Hundred and Sixty-eight acres; more than one half lays in the Bend of the River, Six Hundred acres of which are cleared, and may be called first and second low grounds. There is a great deal of very good Land to clear, a good mill for a Cotton Factory, and a Merchant Mill on the River. One half of this site is owned by Peter Evans, esq. This Tract is less subject to be injured by high water than any tract on the River. It is very level for this section of country, and very productive for Corn, Wheat, Cotton, &c. &c. It is sufficient to say Twenty five or Thirty hands can be worked to very great advantage, and the farm made richer every year. The plantation is in good repair, well watered, the situation high and healthy; on it is a large Frame Dwelling House, four rooms below and three above, with six fire places, and a large framed Barn, fifty-two feet by twenty-four; in it is a large Wheat Thrasher and a Cotton Gin, a Cotton Screw; and necessary out-houses. For the information of persons in the lower part of the State, I refer them to Peter Evans, esq. of Edgecombe; he owns the land immediately above me, on the opposite side of the River. I offer to sell part or all, so as to suit the purchaser. I advise those who wish to get a Bargain and a good Farm to apply and shortly. The subscriber can be found on the plantation at any time.
